Beautification Drive Mapped By Councilmen

Owners Urged to Join Move to Rid City Of Unsightliness

Demolition of dilapidated barns, sheds, fences, business buildings and old residences no longer of economic use was directed by the city council Monday night in a city beautification drive.

Cooperation of property owners will be sought in the drive, and legal action will be taken against those who fail to take necessary steps to remove conditions held to be menaces to health and safety.

HARM POINTED OUT
Whole-hearted support of the council was voiced to the program after City Councilman Evans Fletcher had pointed out the great harm the shacks were from an advertising standpoint in being viewed by prospective home-owners.

A similar drive some years ago resulted in the voluntary demolition of 43 such buildings in Redwood City.

Some property owners have already signified their willingness to cooperate with the city council for the beautification of the city. Two old residences in the Five Points area at El Camino Real will soon be razed.

The city council itself is taking the lead in demolishing the old corporation yard buildings at Chestnut street and Middlefield road and will turn the property into a playground.

CLUB HELP SOUGHT
Cooperation of service clubs, the Women's Club, the new East Redwood City Improvement Club, and the chamber of commerce will be requested.

City Building Inspector I. G. Drathman was directed to prepare a list of the unsightly shacks and to present it for consideration of the council at the August 3 meeting.

Councilman James Eva insisted that the program be done thoroughly and not haphazardly and that all areas of the city be visited and not any particular sections.

One of the buildings mentioned as needing attention was a Main street blacksmith shop; another singled out was a Stambaugh street barn near Cedar street, and still another a residence near Horace Hawes Park. Repairs to a tannery were also mentioned as desirable.

BACK YARDS UNSIGHTLY
One of the buildings mentioned as being used for commercial purposes was said to have "50 holes in the roof" and "all the glass broken out of the windows."

Several of the commuting councilmen pointed out the unsightly back-yard view seen by thousands who ride through Redwood City on the trains daily and one of them described the condition as second only to the stockyard situation approaching San Francisco.

Property owners will be appealed to to show a sense of civic pride in Redwood City and, should this fail, legal steps will be taken to rid the community of the unsightly buildings.

Heat Dead Boom Floral Trade MID-WEST NEEDS EXHAUST BLOOMS County Asters In Big Demand

The ill wind which blew scorching heat into the drought-stricken mid-west has wafted the proverbial good to San Mateo county flower and vegetable growers.

County Agricultural Commissioner Max Leonard disclosed today that demands for flowers to send to funerals of the thousands of drought victims has caused an acute shortage of blooms in this county, particularly of asters, and has sent the prices of the flowers skyrocketing.

Ordinarily, Leonard said, asters bring the growers here about 80 cents per hundred blooms—which was the price received last year.

But in the past few weeks, just as the 50 odd acres of asters grown in this county came into full bloom, the price has gone up until today it is $2.75 a hundred, with the supply of asters not meeting the demand, practically all of which originates in the stricken states, according to the farm advisor.

Fortunately for the local growers of whom there are 27, mostly Chinese, the asters came into bloom about three weeks earlier than usual—just in time for the drought demand. The first few blooms brought $2 a dozen, so great was the call for the floral beauties.

Vegetable prices received by county growers have also increased, apparently due to the demand from the drought area, Leonard said. Shipments are especially heavy in the Colma area. Last week a carload of parsley—the first full car of this product ever shipped from the county—was dispatched to the East.

Besides the asters and other blooms sent to the stricken district, some peninsula flowers were decorating Governor Landon's mansion in Topeka today. San Francisco Republican women last night sent nine dozen asters and

BITING, BARKING DOGS FACE BAN UNDER NEW LAW

Barking and biting dogs are declared a nuisance and subject to death or removal from the city limits under an ordinance introduced at the city council Monday night.

The council defined as a "dangerous" dog any dog "with a propensity to bite human beings."

"It shall be a prima facie evidence that a dog is dangerous when it has bitten a human being," the ordinance provides. Dogs will be given hearings in police court before being put to death or being ordered taken from the city. Trial without jury is provided.

The ordinance was drafted by City Attorney Albert Mansfield and copies a similar law in force at Palo Alto. It was requested by Poundmaster Allan McKay. The ordinance was introduced upon motion of Councilman James Eva and second of Councilman Robert Jones. It will come up for adoption August 3.

County Budget Up $191,294 But Rate Down

Reason for Low Levy In Face of Boost Told by Stack

While tentative expenditures approved by the board of supervisors Tuesday for their coming year were discovered later to total $191,294.64 over last year's budget, the total tax levy of $823,666.94 for this year, under the 35-cent per $100 rate agreed upon, will be $204,599.24 less than in 1935-36.

Several reasons exist for this apparent "miracle," Controller Edward M. Stack explained Wednesday.

1. Delinquent taxes paid during the past year totaled $79,499.80, and this "redemption fund" will go towards expenditures during the coming year.

2. Revenues for the coming year are estimated at $280,050, which is $59,423 more than was estimated for 1935-36.

3. Unspent balances in the various budgets total $32,469.70; these also will go towards next year's expenses.

4. Three funds not listed in past years have come into being during the year which has just closed. They are "fund reserve balance," $190,374.22; "miscellaneous reserves," $71,129.86, and "unapportioned balances," $46,459.66.

WHY FUNDS EXIST

These funds exist this year, Stack said, because an improvement in general conditions resulted in greater receipts during the 12-month period than was anticipated. These receipts were in both revenue and taxes, Stack said.

Last year when the $1.05 tax rate was set, no "redemption" fund was listed to aid in raising the $1,332,355.54 budget adopted, but Stack said that property owners previous to July of 1935 were not paying delinquent taxes—consequently no such fund existed.

While the total amount of funds thus on hand, added to the increase in expected revenue other than taxes, totals some $455,000, the budget balances were approximately $600,000 greater this time last year.

Consequently, the $191,294.64 addition to the budget and the $204,599.24 cut in the tax levy—a total of $395,893.88—can both be provided, leaving the county with the lowest tax rate in history, Controller Stack explained.

OTHER FUNDS FORECAST

Besides the nearly $400,000 which has accumulated during the past year and above what had been anticipated, the controller's office expects to unearth several other funds which have been carried for several years for departments now obsolete.

These will be put back into the general fund and will serve either to reduce the tax rate still further or to provide for the new budget a few more items, perhaps a $30,000 fund for the Redwood City Harbor to aid its development, it was said.

This latter amount was considered by the supervisors, after being informally requested by the city council, but has not as yet been approved.

Excavation Underway For New 'Polio' Tank

SAN MATEO, July 22.—Excavation was underway today for Community Hospital's new physiotherapy tank for treatment of poliomyelitis. The plunge, to cost about $4500, will be paid for by receipts of Presidents' Balls during the past few years, coupled with a $5000 gift from the San Mateo County Greyhound Breeders' Association.

Santa Clara Bourbons Lead G.O.P. by 77

SAN JOSE, July 21.—Although the majority is only 77, Democrats will have a lead in registered voters in Santa Clara county at the August 25 primary for the first time in history. County Clerk Frank Hogan today announced that a compilation showed that of the 74,947 voters registered for the election, 36,704 were Republican and 36,781 were Democrat. In the city of San Jose, however, Democrats had a lead of 2,854.

Garage Burned, Mill Threatened By Local Blazes

Fire which started from a rubbish pile 30 feet away on Tuesday shortly before 10 o'clock destroyed the garage and badly damaged a storehouse of the H. O. Williams place at 537 Winslow street.

Flames which licked into partially filled cans of paint and oil in the garage made a spectacular blaze until arrival of the local fire department, which extinguished the fire before the nearby house had been more than scorched.

The family of William Libby, signpainter, had just vacated the home Monday, and Mr. and Mrs. Williams were preparing the house for rental, putting rubbish on a pile behind the house. Williams said he had not realized the pile was a fire, apparently having caught from smoldering embers, until part of it had blown into nearby grass and spread to the garage.

At 12:45 p.m. Tues. a grass fire burned within a few feet of the Gray-Thorning Company planing mill on Main street, near Chestnut. Only a pile of planks was damaged, but the blaze had it reached the highly combustible mill, might have been a serious one. The city fire department quickly extinguished the flames.

Since 1902 more than 46,000 prisoners have been incarcerated at the federal prison at Atlanta.

United Lines Add 11th L. A. Daily Flight

To answer the demands of increased air travel United Air Lines Wednesday added a fourth daily round trip service between San Francisco and New York and an eleventh daily round trip between San Francisco and Los Angeles.

S. A. Stimpson, district traffic manager, announced yesterday. The new schedules will bring the company's total flying to 1,700,000 miles a month, an all-time record.

An additional flight to Seattle was also being contemplated for August. The east-bound trip will depart from Mills Field at 7:00 p.m. and reach New York at 2:30 p.m. the following day. The west-bound schedule calls for a 5:54 p.m. departure from New York and a 10:03 a.m. arrival here.

The additional round trip to the south leaves here at 5:30 p.m. and leaves Los Angeles at 8:00 p.m.

Manufacturers of the industrial state of Sao Paulo, Brazil, were valued at about $146,460,000 in 1928, dropped to nearly $113,820,000 in 1930 and are estimated to have climbed to approximately $208,000,000 last year, with a higher valuation expected in 1936.

School Taxes Taking Jump On Peninsula

Sequoia High School, Local Elementary Budgets Boosted

School taxes in San Mateo county are due for another substantial increase this year, according to a study by California Taxpayers' Association of preliminary school budgets now on file with the county superintendent of schools.

School taxes in the county went up 11 1/2 per cent last year, and, according to the taxpayers' association, tabulated preliminary budgets show proposed expenditures of $61,040 more than were budgeted last year.

Budget increases outnumber decreases more than two and a half to one. While 21 elementary school districts, four high school districts, and the junior college district are asking for increases, only 8 of 30 elementary and two of the six high school districts in the county have submitted budgets calling for reductions in maintenance expenditures, the association found.

R. C. BUDGETS UP

Among the largest increases are those requested by San Mateo, Burlingame, Redwood City, and Ravenswood elementary school districts. The high school districts proposing the biggest increases are Jefferson Union and Sequoia Union. Lower budgets have been submitted by South San Francisco, San Bruno Park, and Pescadero elementary school districts and maintenance costs of Half Moon Bay Union and Pescadero Union high school districts are expected to be lower.

The tax levy of San Mateo elementary school district last year was $60,213, an increase of $3,037 over the $47,176 levied in 1934-35. This year the budget calls for $14,346 more than last year.

Burlingame, with a tax levy last year of $42,214, an increase of $9770 over the $32,444 levied in 1934-35, comes in this year with a budget calling for $5916 more than last year.

HIGH SCHOOLS JUMP

Proposed additional expenditures for maintaining high schools in the county forecast increased costs to the taxpayers this year, the association declared.

The preliminary budget of the Jefferson union high school district calls for $13,890 more than the budget of last year. This continues the higher cost of previous years, as in 1935-36 the increase was $5814, and two years ago expenditures were $9253 less than those of 1935-36.

In the Sequoia Union High School district, Redwood City, the proposed budget for this year's maintenance is $9615 above last year's budget. The 1935-36 expenditures of this district were $23,142 above those for 1933-34.

San Mateo Union High School district is proposing expenditures $4111 higher than those budgeted for last year. Two years ago this district was spending $21,116 less than it did in 1935-36. Last year's budget was $13,467 below its expenditures, so in proposing a $4111 increase, the school district is planning expenditures of some $17,000 more than it spent last year.

These school budgets are subject to revision up to August 10, the association said.

$723,685 Expended By PWA In County

In San Mateo county, up to and including March 31, 1936, the construction costs for PWA (Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works) non-federal projects totaled $723,685, of which $220,721 was used for labor; $444,709 for materials, and $58,255 for miscellaneous expenditures. It was announced by Donald Renshaw, state director for the National Emergency Council.

It was also revealed that for the entire state, construction costs totaled $41,068,488, $13,536,524 being used for labor, $23,498,443 for materials, and $4,033,521 for miscellaneous expenditures.

Cycle Starts Fire In Grass

Sunday Fire Blackens Five-Acre Section At Sharp Park

A backfiring motorcycle on which a rider had been doing stunts for entertainment of picnickers set fire to a grass field at Sharp Park at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon and before the county fire department equipment could reach the scene and extinguish the blaze, approximately six acres of grass and brush had been blackened.

Adjacent to Vallejo's picnic grounds, the flames imperiled the resort, but Fire Warden Bert Wender's men, on two trucks, prevented it from being damaged. The fire was controlled by 5 p.m. The motorcycle was partially burned. Its ownership was not determined by local firemen.

Horses and mules in Oklahoma decreased by 2,000 between 1930 and 1935, according to a recent farm census.

Misunderstanding Of Marriage Law Cause of Suicide

Misunderstanding over California marriage laws which saw a middle-aged couple file notice of intention to marry but then not return to County Clerk E. B. Hinman's office for the license Monday was blamed for the suicide in Alto, Marin county, of Marie Butzger, 40.

Miss Butzger died 24 hours after firing two bullets into her chest at the home of her brother, Paul Butzger, in Alto.

Two months ago, shortly after her arrival from Germany, Miss Butzger fell in love with John Bottini, a Golden Gate Bridge worker. They applied for a marriage license in Redwood City.

Both believed, according to Butzger, that the application constituted a marriage ceremony. So they settled down as man and wife.

Several days ago they quarreled and separated. Miss Butzger consulted an attorney to get a divorce. When she discovered she was not really married she was remorse stricken, her brother said.

Autoists Stop As Hay Burns At San Carlos

SAN CARLOS, July 20.—The San Carlos fire department was called to the Montgomery tract east of the old county road yesterday at 3:30 when a huge haystack about to be baled into at least 500 bales of hay, burst into flames.

For a while traffic on both El Camino Real and the Bayshore highway was held up by motorists watching the shooting flames. The haystack was still burning today after the department worked for hours to subdue the flames. The haystack was the property of Mayor Asa Hull. The loss will amount to several hundred dollars. No other damage was done. Origin of the fire was unknown.

CRASH VICTIM LAID TO REST AS FIANCEE WEEPS OVER BODY

Instead of walking up the middle aisle in a flowing bridal gown, a joyous bride, Gloria Douglas, 25, of San Francisco, slumped sadly in a wheelchair at St. Mary's on Wednesday to attend the funeral of her fiancé, James Hoff, 29-year-old San Francisco water department clerk who was killed Saturday night in a Bayshore smashup at Burlingame.

The couple were enroute to another wedding when the fatal head-on crash occurred shortly before 9 o'clock. Hoff died three hours later at Mills Memorial Hospital.

Gloria and Jimmy, Miss Douglas explained, were soon to have been married themselves, culminating an old romance which was interrupted for six years by Hoff's marriage to another girl.

Only last Saturday, she said, Hoff had come to see her again.

"I guess you were the girl meant for me," he stammered after they had discussed old times, his marriage and his separation and divorce. "Let's let's get married."

Gloria gasped, but happily assented, and they agreed to drive to Burlingame.

"Some friends of mine are getting married tonight. Let's go and announce our engagement there. Will they be surprised?"

On the way down the Bayshore they planned how they'd marry in a week; what sort of curtains they'd have; where they'd live, when suddenly—

HEIRS SETTLE SUIT AGAINST HOUSEKEEPER

Jessie Condie Agrees To Share Fortune With Relatives

Court trial of a sensational suit which bristled with accusations of use of "undue influence", "wiles and blandishments" in "turning the head" of William Turnbull and "demonstrations of simulated affection" was avoided Monday as a settlement was announced to a will contest brought by relatives of the late San Mateo philanthropist.

While amount paid to the contestants by Miss Jessie Condie, beneficiary under Turnbull's will, was not disclosed, her attorney, Lee T. Ross, said that "the matter has been settled to the satisfaction of all parties concerned."

"A substantial amount was agreed upon as a settlement," Ross said.

The contest had been filed March 12 through Attorneys J. E. McCurdy and John L. McNab for Mrs. Ellen Maxwell of Scotland, widowed sister of Turnbull, and Helen Gillespie, James Harrower, Margaret Aiken, Alexander Harrower and Margaret Ross, nieces and nephews.

It charged that Miss Condie, who was in her early thirties and employed as housekeeper to Turnbull, had influenced him to bequeath her his property, later appraised at $91,000. Turnbull, long a respected citizen of San Mateo and for many years a school trustee there, died January 4, 1935, at the age of 84.

Bulkhead Line Hearing Re-Set For August 4th

Public meeting on the proposed establishment of harbor lines along the western shore of San Francisco Bay in the vicinity of South San Francisco has again been postponed, and will not now be held until 10:30 a.m., Tuesday, August 4.

Originally called for July 15, the meeting was first put over until July 29, and yesterday, by order of the San Francisco Harbor Line Board of the War Department, was again put over.

The San Mateo County Harbor District has applied for the establishment, and the war department is anxious to hear what interested parties may have to say about it before the application is forwarded to Washington.

Watershed Fires Call 2 Bureaus During Evening

Burning within 500 yards of the Crystal Springs Country Club, a grass fire Tuesday night gave the county and the San Francisco fire departments 15 minutes' sharp work before the flames were controlled.

First on the scene, the county fire crew, directed by Deputy Fire Warden Ernest Werder, found two separate blazes, one burning near the clubhouse, and another burning over a larger area near the water flume and the lake some distance from the club. The combined fires burned off a 7½-acre area.

The San Francisco Fire Department also answered the alarm but arrived some minutes after the county men had been fighting the fire.

WATER PLANT MAY BE USED AS CITY POOL

Chestnut Street Plant Referred to Dimmitt To Estimate Cost

Prospect of Redwood City opening a fresh water municipal swimming pool at Chestnut street and the Bayshore highway was held today, following the council's request Monday night that Acting City Manager C. L. Dimmitt estimate the costs involved.

The pool would be provided by utilizing the former settling tank used in the original Redwood City water system. The tank is 35 feet wide and 70 feet long and has a depth of five feet at one end and six feet at the other. Part of the floor would probably be filled in to reduce the depth at one end.

The tank, used to settle sand from water pumped from city wells at that point, was abandoned sometime ago when the city began using half Hetch Hetchy water. The Chestnut street plant, least efficient of the city's system, was no longer necessary and was abandoned. Three wells are available for the pool's water supply, with but one needed.

The water, while fresh, would contain some salt. Filtration would be required.

The tank at present is covered by a roof which would have to be razed. The sides of the tank, also, Dimmitt reported, would require some surfacing to remove the roughness.

Dimmitt was asked to estimate what a WPA project for providing the municipal pool would cost, how much it would cost for an attendant, and what charges for admission, if any, should be made.

The pool idea was advanced recently by the East Redwood City Improvement Club and was called up for council consideration by Councilman Evans Fletcher.

Fletcher also suggested that the city erect signs at Chestnut street to direct the attention of Bayshore motorists that deep salt water swimming and boating may be enjoyed at the Redwood City Yacht Harbor. The council approved the idea.

RETURN FROM TRIP TO EASTERN CITIES

Mrs. Fannie L. Kurtz and her daughter, Miss Myra Kurtz, have returned to their Menlo Park home after a month's trip. They visited Chicago, Minneapolis, Lake Louise, Banff, British Columbia, Seattle, and Portland.

In Cincinnati they were with Mrs. Kurtz's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kurtz. Of particular interest to them there was the museum of fine arts in which they saw an exceptional collection of Duvneek paintings, many of them loaned by Frank Duvneek of Los Altos, son of the artist.

At Seattle, they were guests of Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Johnson, both members of the University of Washington faculty. Harold Kurtz, another son of the Menlo Park resident, joined the travelers at Portland for the drive home down the coast route.

MRS. MAHANY RETURNS FROM TRIP NORTH

A.A.U.W. Summer Plans Announced

The Palo Alto branch of the American Association of University Women will hold an outdoor meeting in August and will entertain the state board members in September when they are on the peninsula for a regional conference at San Mateo.

Plans for the two late summer events were announced at a social meeting held Friday in the patio of the Stanford Women's Gymnasium. Mrs. Frank Swain of Whittier, state president, will be among the guests at the conference.

An informal program was presented, made up of flute solos by Frances Hawes and a reading of the play, "Everybody's Husband," by Joan Jankowski. Miss Hawes is a student at Stanford and Miss Jankowski a member of the Pasadena Community Players.

MENLO PARK GROUP ENJOYS SUPPER PARTY

Faculty and students of the summer workshop being conducted at the Peninsula School in Menlo Park were guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Duvneek Monday evening at Hidden Villa, their home in the Los Altos foothills. Supper was followed by games and an informal social time.

High Court Denies R. R. Crossing Plea

Apparently exhausting the last avenue of appeal from the April 13 order of the state railroad commission closing five peninsula grade crossings, two of them in Redwood City, the State Supreme Court Monday denied the City of San Mateo's plea for a writ of review of the case, the Associated Press reported from San Francisco.

Girls to Play
Part in Fiesta

Beauties From County
Will Be Selected
As Feature

Beautiful San Mateo County girls will have a big part in the Second Annual Products and Floral Fiesta during its four-day showing at Bay Meadows starting October 8, it was announced today.

The girls will be chosen from all sections of the county for their grace, charm and beauty. It will not be a "queen contest" and details governing it will be released for publication by the fiesta commission early next week, it was said.

Plans for the colorful floral parade and pageant which will prove a nightly feature of the show during its four-day run are being speeded toward completion.

Frederick Weddleton, advisor to the commissioner, said the fiesta will stage many educational, industrial, home building, home appliance and home modernization exhibits.

"While the floral beauties of San Mateo County will be displayed in some very interesting exhibits, we do not intend to neglect the industrial, home building, home appliance and building material exhibits," said Weddleton.

"San Mateo County's industrial output is an important phase of the peninsula's daily life. We mean to put on some educational displays along this line."

Earlier this week the fiesta commissioners met several times to confer on important matters with President Bruce Gibson and General Manager Martin Poss.

Poss continued to urge all potential exhibitors to call at fiesta headquarters, 116 B street, San Mateo, for schedules, which are now complete.

Kiwanis, Lions Support 'Shack' Razing Program

Force of two of Redwood City's service clubs today was thrown behind the current city council move to rid the city of shacks and deserted buildings and in general beautify the community. Meeting last night, the local Lions club unanimously endorsed the drive which was decided upon Monday by the council. The club authorized Dr. Wesley Taylor, secretary, to write the council, commending the move, and offering full support to the project.

A few hours before, at its luncheon session, the Kiwanis club similarly endorsed the movement, pledging support of the organization. The Lions, who in their meeting heard a talk on wills by Attorney

Wide Markets For Products Safeway Idea

Creation of wider markets for California's basic agricultural products has been the object of five intensive farmer-consumer campaigns waged by Safeway Stores, Inc., during the past six months, it was announced here today.

The campaigns which have been praised by farm leaders throughout the country were conducted in behalf of various industries representing beef, lamb, citrus fruits, dairy products, and canned peaches.

Jack O'Loughlin, district manager of Safeway Stores, Inc., for Redwood City, in announcing results of these five campaigns said that additional farmer-consumer crusades would be waged during the balance of the year.

"This plan to help agriculture was originated by Safeway nearly five years ago when sheep men were faced with financial ruin because of enormous surpluses," he said.

"In that critical period Safeway through extensive newspaper advertising and increased sales efforts marketed in excess of 15,000 lambs in two days.

"This cooperative movement resulted in immediate financial salvation for the sheep industry and led to the inauguration of these farmer-consumer campaigns which have so successfully demonstrated the advantages of the chain store method of distribution."

Citizenship Move Closing

Only Week Remaining For R. C. to Make Contest Showing

Only one more week remains in the current Better Citizenship Campaign which is being conducted locally and throughout the state.

Secretary-Manager Roscoe D. Wyatt of the local chamber of commerce was notified today by W. E. Stewart of San Francisco, secretary of the California Committee on Better Citizenship, that on August 10 the statewide committee will examine the reports of the various communities and award the silver trophy to the chamber as the representative of the city which reports the most effective education campaign on citizenship carried out during the past two and a half months.

The contest, which began May 18, closes July 31.

When the trophy is presented to the winning city, an elaborate civic ceremony will be held as a statewide tribute to the city and the chamber.

Object of the campaign has been to bring about a greater appreciation of the duties and privileges of citizens and to create a deeper interest in governmental affairs.

The plan of campaign consists of distribution to citizens of a set of 12 questions dealing with the governmental affairs. Leaflets containing the questions have been widely circulated. Answers may be obtained at the local chamber of commerce office.

Nearly 50 local citizens have called there for the pamphlets containing the answers, Wyatt said. More are available.

In the judging, consideration will be given to population of cities, so that small towns will have an equal chance with large places.

Hen Unannoyed As Flames Lick Close to Nest

Started by a 4-year-old boy playing with matches, a fire in the backyard of 1836 - Oak avenue, home of Mrs. Ethel Ward, endangered a chicken house yesterday at 4:45 o'clock.

No damage was done, although the flames were within a few feet of the poultry. During all the smoke and confusion as firemen were putting out the fire, a hen, setting on a nest of pheasant eggs, stuck to her post, clucking annoyance at the disturbance which raged around her.

Civic Leaguers Still Seeking Further Slash

Group Admits Budget Now Permits 20-cent Tax Reduction

Reportedly desirous of knowing why the tentative county budget approved by the supervisors for the coming year is up $191,294 over last year's instead of down $200,000, as the board members on December 13 said it would be, the Civic League of San Mateo County, association of prominent taxpayers, today undertook a study of the proposed expenditures.

While conceding that the tax rate is being cut 26 cents, as forecast in December, league members pointed out that if the budget had not been increased, a further cut of 19 cents could have been made.

The reason why some $387,000 exists in funds this year to apply against the coming budget, while in previous years no such funds were mentioned, also was to occupy some of the league's study members said.

Controller Edward M. Stack said that the funds came in during the past year, and represented an excess of revenue over that anticipated.

One of the amounts, "redemption fund," is for delinquent taxes paid during the past year. It totals $79,499.80. The previous year, according to the controller, no delinquent taxes were paid—hence there was no "redemption fund" to apply against the budget.

The other new funds are: "Fund reserve balance," $190,374.22; "miscellaneous reserves," $71,129.86; and "unapportioned balances," $46,459.66.

In addition, other funds of departments which no longer function are being dug up by the controller, and they also will be used to apply on the coming year's budget.

However, one of the largest gains in expenditures in the new budget was explained today by Health Director Charles C. Gans. The Social Service Department, which last year was allowed but $165,851, this year has requested $233,312.50.

Dr. Gans explained that of this requested amount, $249,119 is for old age, orphan and blind aid. Last year this amount was only $110,816. But this year persons over 65 will receive aid, while in the past the minimum age was 70. In addition, the average compensation now is $32, while previously it was somewhat less. As a result, the burden is heavier.

Offsetting this increase, however, is the fact that the federal government will reimburse the county for half of the $249,119. Dr. Gans said, while the state also contributes a fourth of the amount, leaving only a quarter

2 Pedestrians Suffer Injuries

M. J. Johnson Incurs Broken Leg Here; Woman Struck

Two pedestrians, one of them a Redwood City man, were struck down by automobiles in the county late Monday.

One of the victims, M. J. Johnson, 66, 518 Stambaugh street, was hit by the machine of Mervin E. Willoughby, San Jose, at 4:40 p.m. near the S. H. Frank and Company tannery on the Bayshore highway. Johnson suffered a fractured right leg and was given emergency treatment by Dr. F. S. Gregory at the Middlefield Road Hospital before being transferred to the Community Hospital at San Mateo.

In the other accident, Benita Ricci, 65, San Bruno, incurred a fracture of the right arm when she was struck in San Bruno by the car of George Dennis, 27, Colma. Dennis, son of Jack Dennis, former Tanforan race track superintendent, told police that he was blinded by the lights of an oncoming car and did not see the woman standing in the center of El Camino Real. The crash victim was taken to the South San Francisco General Hospital.

In neither case was the driver of the machines held by police.

Asleep at Wheel, L. A. Woman Injured

SAN CARLOS, July 22.—Although she was knocked unconscious and suffered a bruised knee and cut forehead in an automobile accident early this morning in San Carlos, Zelma Winters, 27, recovered sufficiently after a few hours treatment at Community Hospital, San Mateo, to continue on her way to her home in Los Angeles.

Her trip was interrupted at 6:30 o'clock when she fell asleep at the wheel. Her machine swerved onto the sidewalk here at Arroyo avenue and El Camino Real, missed several light standards, and then ran back across the highway and into a ditch, police said. Her car was badly damaged, so she had to continue by stage.

for the county to raise—approximately $62,000.

So while the entire amount must show in the budget, much of it will be returned during the year by state and federal agencies.

Last year, of the total aid bill only half was returned to the county, and that by the state, Dr. Gans explained.

Other social service expenditures which go to make up the $233,312 are for direct relief, included are such items as $24,000 for groceries; $5,000 for milk; $3,000 for rent, heat and light; $2,000 for crippled children; $2,70 for board. In addition, the county must advance approximately $20,000 towards the federal government's share for relief because the payments are made at the end of the month—consequently one payment will not be received until after the close of the fiscal year.

The Civic League study, members stressed, was being made in the hopes that still further cuts could be made so as to bring the coming year's tax rate down to 75 cents—a goal set several weeks ago by the taxpayer group.

City's Advantages Set Forth Today In Publication

Presenting Redwood City's past and future—its history and plans for harbor development—the July issue of California Homes magazine is on the newsstands today.

The issue contains historical data gathered by Roscoe Wyatt, secretary of the chamber of commerce, and a discussion of the port future under the title "Today, a New Path of Empire," by former Mayor Charles Lambert.

The articles form a two-page spread under a panoramic drawing which shows Redwood City's strategic location on San Francisco Bay.

Lambert's article terms the recent favorable vote "to develop deep-water commerce and extensive industry at Redwood City" an invitation to people in the San Francisco bay region and elsewhere who are searching for the most desirable home location to see Redwood City.

The other article treats the history of the city since the time it was called "Cachineta" by the Indians, then "Los Cochinitos," by the Spaniards, "Embarcadero" by the Spanish-Californians, and finally "Redwood," a name changed to Redwood City on incorporation.

Appearing on the back of the frontpiece picture is an advertisement purchased by Redwood City, detailing advantages of the city "for homes, for recreation, for culture, for industry for better living."

Road Petition Held 'Just Waste of Time'

Disgruntled with alleged lack of response on the part of the county, City of Menlo Park, and district attorney to requests for repair of Middle Avenue, Menlo Park, Hugo May of 655 Hermosa Way, Menlo Park, today filed a communication with the supervisors proposing "to employ every

Bill Collector Plays 'Sheriff' To Lessen Task

Menlo Park Housewife Brings About Exposure Of Debt Warnings

A collection racket in which the perpetrators impersonated the sheriff and district attorney over the telephone and threatened jail to debtors failing to pay bills was exposed here today.

The exposure was brought about by a Menlo Park housewife, who at present is employed in a cannery. Her name was not revealed. Threatened over the telephone by a voice which declared it was that of Sheriff James J. McGrath, the woman pleaded for time to discuss the matter with her husband, securing the "sheriff's" telephone number so she could call back.

CALLS AT JAIL

But instead of telephoning back to the "sheriff," she called at the jail office to see him. There she learned neither McGrath nor any of his deputies had heard of the collection attempt, and they told the matron that the telephone number she had secured, while a Redwood City number, was not that of the officer.

Upon advice from the sheriff, the debt-owing woman went to the district attorney, conferring with Assistant Daniel Sullivan. After hearing her story, Sullivan asked her to telephone the "sheriff" while he listened on another line.

She did. The "sheriff" answered. His demands for payment were repeated.

SULLIVAN BREAKS IN

Then Sullivan broke in. "Hello, is that you, Jim?" he asked. "Bang! The hook on the other end must have sagged under the weight of a hastily dropped receiver."

Immediately Attorney Sullivan issued a citation for the Menlo Park retail storekeeper to whom the woman owed the bill. A check-up of telephones revealed he also owned the store whose local number the woman held, Sullivan said. Questioned late yesterday, he denied any knowledge of the plot, Sullivan said.

Perhaps an employee had originated the novel plan of forcing collections, unknown to the proprietor, he said, but he himself knew nothing of it.

WARNING ISSUED

After a warning, in which Sullivan advised the storekeeper that impersonating an officer, even over the telephone, was a crime, the Menlo Park man was released. Sullivan said that it had previously

POST MORTEM SHOWS SEA VICTIM DROWNED

Clothing Gives Clues To Identity; Death Means Sought

Lungs filled with water and absence of any marks or bruises on the body led Dr. W. C. Lynch of Daly City to announce Tuesday that drowning was the cause of death of the man whose decomposed corpse was washed up on the sands at Sharp Park.

A thorough post mortem, which took some three hours to perform, failed to disclose a single fracture or wound on the body, Dr. Lynch said.

Only clues to identity of the latest mystery to confront San Mateo county authorities were an odd sock, a peculiarly constructed shoe and the tattered remnants of a pair of green and white striped underwear shorts.

The sock, Deputy Coroner Louella Pepper said, had a black foot with four white stripes, a white leg, and a black ribbed elastic top.

The black oxford had a heel a half inch higher than the average shoe, and was built up with steel arch supports.

Through a manufacturer's serial number, 7085-985, Coroner William Crosby attempted to find a lead to identity of the sea victim.

Meanwhile theories as to the 35-year-old man's death were mere speculation—whether he was washed off rocks; thrown off a boat, or committed suicide was unknown.

Lintner Elected State President Of Relief Union

Frank Lintner of Menlo Park, delegate from the Public Works and Unemployed Union of San Mateo County, was Mon. elected state president of the State Federation of Unemployed and Allied Organizations meeting in Los Angeles.

Lintner, supervisor candidate from the Third District opposing Incumbent John W. Poole, is in the south with four other delegates from Local No. 77, having gone south on $50 provided by the board of supervisors.

The convention effected a union with Workers Alliance locals of state and adopted the new name of Workers Alliance of California, comprising 15,000 members.

S. F. MAN HURT IN CRASH

In a Sunday collision at 3:50 p.m. at Hopkins and Iris streets, J. C. Berendsen, San Francisco, received a cut right eye and a contusion of the right leg when the machine of Sanford Dickey, with whom he was riding, and the car of Julio Tempestini, 420 avenue del Ora, Redwood City, collided. Neither Tempestini nor Dickey, a San Franciscan, was hurt.

ly been reported to the district attorney's office that a similar method of collection had been employed using District Attorney Gilbert Ferrell's name.

The attorney also pointed out that a debtor could not be jailed for failing to pay bills, unless the amount involved room rent or payment for meals.

Railroad Bans Use of Depot Area as Park

Mercier Tells Council Acreage to Be Used Commercially

Opposition to the proposed use of the acreage opposite the depot for city park purposes as has been proposed if the Southern Pacific does not intend to utilize it at once, was expressed in a letter filed with the city council Monday night by A. T. Mercier of Palo Alto, general manager of the railroad.

Mercier, in the letter addressed to City Councilman Evans Fletcher, chairman of a council committee studying the depot situation, declared the railroad has in mind "industrial or business" use of the acreage.

FIRM'S VIEWS TOLD

"In development of our plans," Mercier wrote, "it has been our object to proceed on the theory that the area should ultimately be made available for potential industrial or business use, feeling that such use would redound to the benefit of your city and ourselves, in much greater measure than would result were said area
